

About Dextra

Dextra specializes in helping our clients manage complex remediation programs, both at the project and portfolio level.

Overview of the Firm

- Dextra was founded in 1998.
- As opposed to other environmental consulting firms that offer specific technical services, Dextra focuses first and foremost on exceptional project management.
- Each of our project managers have successfully helped clients meet their desired cost, progress, and technical objectives for more than 20 years.
- Dextra project managers have managed remediation projects in 19 states as well as Canada and Mexico.
- Dextra is a small firm offering a core group of seasoned professionals experienced in managing complex remediation projects. If specific technical expertise is needed, we have developed a national network of partners and can seamlessly pull resources as necessary to further support your project.

Dextra's Promise to Our Clients

- We partner with you and work as an integrated member of your team.
- We focus first on actively listening to your needs, concerns, and drivers. We do not formulate solutions until we understand your strategic objectives.
- We consistently advocate for you in all matters.
- We continuously look for opportunities to do more with less, helping you achieve higher levels of project/program maturity, optimization, and cost savings.
